

Be Toronto's Top Model Everyday
Buy your clothes at your local Goodwill store- and support those in your community

March 1, 2007, Toronto, Ontario – Be a Top Model everyday in your community by buying your clothing at your local Goodwill. You can find brand name clothing, purses, shoes and funky vintage fashions all at spine-tingling low prices. Purchases fund job training programs offered by Goodwill right in your community.

Last year's winner of Canada's Next Top Model, Andrea Muizelaar created outfits using clothing purchased at Goodwill. And, Goodwill Industries in California is raising funds for those in their community through an online auction of America's Next Top Model. In Toronto, people can be Top Models everyday by shopping at their Goodwill store.

Year round people donate their gently used clothing to Goodwill so there is always lots to choose from.

By supporting Goodwill people bring hope to those who face barriers to employment by assisting them to work and support their families. Goodwill has transitional employment initiatives for youth from at-risk neighbourhoods, chronically unemployed, new Canadians and persons with disabilities.

To find the Goodwill Store or Donation Centre closest to you go to www.goodwill.on.ca , call 416-362-4711 or visit the Goodwill flagship store at 345 Bloor Street East at Sherbourne.
